life, it seems as if you’re always just a dollar short of getting exactly what you want.”

Only let each person lead the life that the Lord has assigned to him, and to which God has called him.

“Most of us spend our lives never fully satisfied, never completely happy, and never resting in contentment with the life that God has given us right here and right now.”

So, brothers, in whatever condition
each was called, there let him remain with God.

"Seasons of Discontentment"

I. When Couples Gather

“No matter how hard single people try to prepare ahead of time, the mental onslaught of discontentment is the loudest when couples gather together to celebrate.”

II. When Everyone Leaves

Late at night, any night of the week brings along its set of regrets and unfulfilled longings that create a challenge for most single Christians. It is difficult to be content when people leave.

III. When People Say Too Much

“Christians struggle with contentment when they listen to unsolicited advice from happy married couples and nosy cousins.”

IV. When Other Single People Marry

“When other Single people marry, it’s easy to feel like God has overlooked you.”
